Dating Old Houses:
1. "Year built" could be either date frame was raised or date house was move-in ready.
2. Most of these dates should be considered "earliest likely" and "circa" – except the following for which dates there is concrete evidence:
Congr Church (church/town records); Town Hall and Brick School (Farmers' Cabinet newspaper): 1 Pierce Lane (1785 frame raised per surviving journal);
154 Amherst St (per deed); 97 Bost Post Road ("Miss Wakefield" announced 5 Jan. 1825 in newspaper that had moved in); 1846 as year for 5 & 7 Carriage Road and 11 Church Street (corroboration per journal quoted by EBL on p. 88, identified by Howard Locke for V103 as Lucy Boylston's diary); 11 Carriage Road (newspaper); Town Library (1892 is completion, records); 18 Middle St (newspaper); 149 Amherst St (move-in reported in Milford Cabinet newspaper).
3. Dating is inconsistent for dwelling houses that started as another kind of building, such as store or tradesman's shop, as to whether date of first structure is used
Or date of remodeling into house.
